CLEAN CUT

Boxing Exhibition.

Main Event Went Twenty
Rounds to Draw.

Simms and White Break
Even Again.

Akron Light Weight Showed Marked Improvement.

Whittaker Given the Decision—Local Sporting News.

Tommy White retains his title, but by a very narrow margin.
He managed to stand Simms off for 20 rounds at the Grand opera house Monday night. It was the effort of his life and he was very weak and weary when the end of the route was reached.

White put up a spectacular fight but his blows lacked force. He landed frequently but succeeded in doing little damage to the clever light-weight of Akron. Simms' method of fighting was calculated to inflict much more punishment. Every blow he landed had steam behind it, and wherever it came in contact with the anatomy of ART SIMMS.

Akron's Clever Lightweight

the Chicago man, it left a vivid red mark.

Referee Siler's decision was greeted with applause. It could not have been anything but a draw, although the more partisan admirers of Simms expected he would be given the decision.
They based their hopes on a comparison of the condition of the men at the finish. On this basis Simms would have won as he was much the stronger. White was tired. He was much distressed by the terrific punches over-under and around his heart. This point was the target for the greater portion of Simms' blows. In every clinch, Art pounded away on the heart and wind with his stiff right hooks.
White's ribs were sore long before the contest was half over. In the last round, his flesh, in the region of his heart, was fire red.

At long range fighting he had a slight edge. He landed oftener than his opponent. In the mix-ups he was all Simms. The Akron man improved wonderfully since his fight with White in Cleveland. This fact proved to be a surprise to the Cham-peon. Instead of running away from him, Simms carried the fight up to him all through. He was the aggressor in practically every round.

It was 9:40 o'clock when Simms entered the ring. He was given an ovation.
He was seconded by Johnny Whittaker, Charley Green, Mike Gallagher and Johnny Lavack. White followed a few minutes later. He was looked after by Ed Brady, George Rogers and George Church. J. H.
Smetzer of Cleveland acted as time keeper for White. Sam Young doing a like duty for Simms. Dan Lipps was the official watch holder. Before the men had stripped for action, it was announced that Denny Gallagher of Cleveland, challenged the winner.

Both men showed good form. They were apparently trained to the minute.
Simms' muscles were almost visible through his clear skin. His flesh looked firm and his color was good. White was the shorter, but across his shoulders he had the greater breadth. It was agreed that they should hit in the elbows with the free arm. Their weight was announced as 130 pounds.
They had stepped on the scales at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

FIRST ROUND.

As soon as the gong sounded they jumped to the center. White failed to land. Simms reached the car with his left. White countered on the wind.
Simms' rights were thrown into White's ribs, the latter scoring on the wind again. Simms reached the face with his left. In a clinch White landed his left on the eye. Simms was a trifle wild, missing two swings. Clinches were frequent. No damage.

ROUND TWO.

Simms began his heart-breaking tactics. Several times he reached White's left side. It was an even thing up to the last minute, both men landing frequently. Near the close Simms landed a hard left on the jaw. White partially slipped and fell to the floor. He was groggy and was down on one knee for three seconds. As the gong sounded, Simms landed on the ear. Simms' round.

ROUND THREE.

White scored first blood with a hard left to the face. It was giv and take during the round. Both men were tired at the gong. White had the best of it. He found Simms frequently.

The fourth and fifth rounds were fast ones. It was about an even break, although any advantage was on Simms' side. In the fifth he landed a hard right swing on White's head, cutting a small gash over the temple.
Simms' left eye was discolored and bleeding. This bothered him some.

The sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth rounds were marked by fast fighting.
Simms pounded away on White's heart, the Chicago man playing for the face.
Both men were strong, and aside from a few bumps, they showed few signs of punishment. In the ninth round, White was cautioned about holding.
Simms was hot after White. In his anxiety to find the knock out point, he ran into several hard face blows.

From this time to the last round, the men continued the same tactics. White waited for Simms to come to him. Then he smashed away at Art's face.
Simms' eye was in bad shape, bleeding considerably. The cut on White's temple was flowing freely. The gloves were getting slippery, and left a red mark wherever they landed. Simms rushed matters, forcing White to the ropes frequently. The Chicago man, however, found a way to escape.

LAST ROUND.

Simms was the stronger when the bell called the men together for the last round. He had apparently gained strength from the eighth round on.
They opened with an even exchange.
Simms landed a vicious upper cut on the chin, following it with a hard left to the heart. He reached White's chin again, but not on the right spot. He sent White's head back with a hard left. They faced the same in a close exchange. Simms landed the last blow, a hard one on the jaw. They were sparring when the bell tapped.

Referee Siler's decision, a draw, was received with applause.

AN ORDERLY CROWD.

The entertainment was by long odds, the most successful ever given in this city. The crowd completely filled the opera house. There was no disturbance of any kind. The applause was given with the hands and not feet. Before the events started, Ex-City Solicitor Rowley made a brief address.

He asked that good order be maintained. He said on this depended, future athletic entertainments. If there was good order, trouble would not be experienced in the future. The receipts were large. The North End Athletic club will have a large surplus. White received $500 for his appearance.

Simms gets 50 per cent of the gross receipts, after $500 has been deducted.
Milo Williams, president of the club, acted as official announcer.

The two preliminaries were clean cut and interesting. Johnny Lavack of Cleveland officiated as referee.

The first six round bout between Johnny Whittaker and Louis Durrand, both colored and residents of Cleveland, at 124 pounds given to Whittaker on points.

He outclassed his opponent distinguishing himself by clever ducking.

The two mixed matters well and made the go quite lively. Whittaker's seconds were Billy Smith of Philadelphia, Jim Lincie and Mike Gallagher of Akron. Durrand had in his corner "Young" Gibbs, Barney Welsh and Geo. Baker, all of Cleveland.

The last preliminary in which Jack Palmer of Akron and Geo. Church, colored, Buffalo, were contestants, was hot from start to finish. The men fought at 115 pounds. Church broke away very clean and he was given a "hand" for his neat work. Both men got in some good blows. Palmer was loudly applauded for his clever ducking and fast foot work. In the fifth round several blows. They claimed Church chopped Palmer in the ribs with his right arm. The referee declared the contest a draw, to everybody's satisfaction.

Palmer's seconds were Frank Cassidy, Frank Lincie and Dennis Phelps all of Akron, while Church had in his corner Grant Nickens and Frank Clark of Cleveland and Geo. Rogers of Akron.

HIS A COMER.

Referee Siler had much to say in praise of Simms. He looks upon him as a "future great." On speaking of him, he said, "He has one of the hardest left hand swings of any man in the ring. Although he is not as clever as White, he can hit much harder. He will make his mark."

ADMIRER RUHLIN.

"Ruhlin is the coming champion of the world," said Siler. "There is no question of this. He is the only man who has a chance to take the title from Jeffries. His improvement since he fought Kid McCoy at Syracuse has been remarkable. It would be impossible for a man to improve faster. I am satisfied that his work with Corbett will be of great benefit to him."

SIMMS NEXT.

Simms will meet Eddie Gardner, of Wheeling, at Niles next Saturday night for a purse of $5000. His go with Haley has been canceled.

FOR THE BABIES.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences.
